

LOIS A. SCOTT

Lois Scott received her Bachelor of Arts Degree from Bethune-Cookman College in 1971. Additional studies in Management and Supervision were completed at the University of Florida, Florida State University, Mississippi State University and Temple University.

Lois is a thirty-year veteran of Workforce Development programs. She presently holds the position of Program Manager, One Stop Support and Coordination, at Florida's Agency for Workforce Innovation. Working with Regional Workforce Development Boards, she coordinates the agency's activities and staff in 144 One Stops throughout the state.

Previously she held the position of Division Director for Workforce and Employment Opportunities, for the Department of Labor and Employment Security.

A consensus builder with extensive experience in workforce development she has held positions at the local, regional and state level. Experience that has been beneficial in helping to shape Florida's Workforce Development System to meet the workforce demands of the new millennium. Innovative and receptive to new and creative ways to get the job done, Lois has been instrumental in several pilots and new processes that have helped to shape a new and more innovative, cost effective and productive workforce system to meet Florida's workforce needs.

She is the recipient of many professional and civic awards and has received recognition for exemplary job performance and public service.

Her diverse background, extensive community involvement and ability to communicate with people from all walks of life and economic levels has been key to her professional success.

Lois is married, has one son, and two grandchildren.