

LYNN CONNELLY

Director of Strategic Alliances

Ms. Connelly is responsible for building brand awareness, customer loyalty and affinity through women's marketing, strategic alliances and sponsorships. Lynn is the creator of Office Depot's strategic involvement with women in business and Office Depot's women's business conference, Success Strategies for Businesswomen. She has lead several key initiatives, including Office Depot's Olympic involvement and the naming rights of the Office Depot Center. Prior to joining Office Depot, she spent 12 years on the Ladies Professional Golf Tour. She also founded Premier Sports International and served as the CEO. Lynn is currently an executive MBA student at Kellogg School of Management.