

Bio for Zola Finch

Zola is employed by RMI, a Missouri Certified Development Company (CDC) and has been employed there for over twenty years. Twelve of those twenty years she has held the position of Director of Finance Programs. Zola manages the day-to-day activities of RMI's financing programs. One of the programs RMI administers is the SBA 504 Loan Program¹⁹⁸³. RMI has a portfolio of over 300 504 loans totaling over $80 million. Outside of her RMI duties, she has served on the National Association of Development Companies (NADCO) Board since 1997. She has held the offices of Vice President of Communications, Administration, Congressional Affairs and Technical Issues. Currently, Zola serves as Chairman of the Board of NADCO.

Zola's education includes a B.A. in Accounting and an MBA from William Woods University in Fulton, Missouri. She has also earned the National Development Council (NDC) Certification as an Economic Development Finance Professional. Zola's husband, David, is currently on active military duty with the Army. They have one daughter, Kaitlyn, one St. Bernard, Sadie, and three cats, Alex, Ashley, and Princess.

