Comments:

Graded Agency:

The U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC) supports its mission and operations through Federal acquisitions with small businesses and is committed to its efforts to achieve its Federal small business goals. Therefore, the Small Business Program has implemented an active compliance, technical assistance, and outreach program designed to maximize prime and subcontract opportunities for small businesses. As a result, the agency exceeded four out of five of its small business prime contract goals, missing the HUBZone goal by merely one tenth of a percent, and achieved all of its subcontract goals for small businesses.

The agency improved upon last year's performance by increasing the engagement between the Small Business Program, acquisition staff, regional buyers, and the small business marketplace. This led to the agency increasing the amount of contract dollars awarded to small businesses, including to companies owned by the disadvantaged and service-disabled veterans. In fact, the NRC doubled the goal for women and service-disabled veterans, and tripled the small disadvantaged business goal. Such accomplishments were also the result of the independent role of the Small Business Program, which is dedicated to and advocates for increasing acquisition opportunities for small businesses.
