Graded Agency:

The U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC) continues to support agency mission goals and objectives to regulate commercial and institutional uses of nuclear materials through Federal contracting. In meeting its mission, the NRC also continues to support our Nation's small businesses, including those small businesses owned by the disadvantaged, women, veterans, service-disabled veterans and companies located in Historically Underutilized Business Zones (HUBZone). The agency is committed to increasing its efforts to maintain and exceed Federal small business goals and objectives, and supports varied Federal, Congressional, State and local government efforts and initiatives to maximize small business prime and subcontract opportunities. The NRC continues to deliver a viable outreach program to train, assist and explore the small business marketplace. In Fiscal (FY) 2012, through one on one counseling to over 100 businesses and participating in over 10 outreach events, the NRC reached out to over 9,500 small business owners. The NRC recognizes that small businesses are the economic engine that drive job growth and are vital to the economic recovery and security of the Nation and therefore values small business partnerships in supporting agency operations.

The NRC was pleased to achieve our first letter scorecard grade of letter "A" in FY 2011 and to have met and exceeded its overall small business prime contracting goals for FY 2012. This sustained effort is a result of a coordinated commitment between the Small Business Program and acquisitions staff. Increased performance has been recognized in every economic subcategory. Growth opportunities moving forward will be focused on subcontracting achievement. The NRC continues to support and implement a Scorecard Progress Plan to increase the value of prime and subcontract awards to small business through strategic acquisition planning, market research and set-aside efforts as well as by providing training and technical assistance to both Federal agency officials and the business community. Moreover, as the agency implements various strategic acquisition and operational modernization initiatives, the NRC plans to continue ensuring a place for small businesses in its consolidation efforts.
