

Visiting the St. Louis Federal Reserve Bank

---

The St. Louis Federal Reserve Bank is located at One Federal Reserve Bank Plaza, at the corner of Broadway and Locust Street in downtown St. Louis; south of Washington Avenue and west of 4th Street. You should plan to enter the FRB through the Plaza along the eastern side of Broadway, at Locust Street. Because of security requirements you must have a photo ID available for inspection to be allowed into the conference.

Parking

There is ample parking available around the St. Louis Federal Reserve Bank, including at the Mansion House garage on Fourth Street (just past Olive Street), at the St. Louis Centre garage along Broadway (south of Washington, on right-hand side) and numerous other parking lots located nearby.

Mass Transportation

Metro Transit operates of the public transportation system for the St. Louis metropolitan region, which includes a MetroLink light rail service and a number of Park & Ride Centers in the surrounding suburbs. The Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis is approximately 1 block east, and one block south of the MetroLink Convention Center station, and approximately 3 blocks east and 2 blocks north of the MetroLink Station at 8th & Pine Street.

Map

Hotels

Since Downtown St. Louis is a major convention center, there is no shortage of first rate hotels surrounding the St. Louis Federal Reserve Bank.