What is new in Pay.gov?

The capability for lenders to make America's Recovery Capital (ARC) loan payments now exists on the SBA Form 172, Transaction Report on Loans Serviced by Lenders. As a reminder, it is mandatory for lenders to submit payments electronically using the U.S. Treasury website Pay.gov per SBA Procedural Notice 2000-766. All ARC payments must therefore now be submitted using the Form 172 in Pay.Gov, and SBA will not accept ARC payments by any other method.

When making ARC payments using the SBA Form 172, select the radio button titled America's Recovery Capital (ARC) in field number 1 titled Payment Type. Complete all the remaining required fields then click the "Continue" button. Enter payment information then click on the Review and Submit Payment button. Verify the payment information is correct, click in the box stating that you agree to the Pay.gov authorization and disclosure statement then click on the Submit Payment button.
