Results In Brief

The Small Business Administration (SBA) Office of Inspector General (OIG) contracted with KPMG LLP to perform the FY 2006 external and internal vulnerability assessment in support of the fiscal year 2006 financial statement audit for SBA. As a result, KPMG performed a limited vulnerability assessment to assess the security controls for key SBA network devices and related device operating software. The scope of the review included key SBA's internal network devices and systems (i.e., available from within the SBA network), and external network devices and systems (i.e., available over the Internet). Information security is a critical control element for SBA, both from a financial processing perspective and an operational perspective.

The purpose of a vulnerability assessment was to test the implementation of information security controls for key network and system devices supporting financial and administrative processing activities. To perform this review, KPMG information security analysts utilized several automated assessment tools and their knowledge of known security exploits to identify potential security vulnerabilities. The SBA Office of Chief Information Officer (OCIO) and IT security (ITSEC) personnel were aware of our review efforts at all times, and critical issues were communicated to SBA personnel as they were identified. All results of the testing have been communicated to the appropriate management officials within OCIO, the Office of the Chief Financial Officer (OCFO) and the Office of the Chief Operating Officer (OCOO).
