

SBA Information Notice

TO: All GCBD Employees

CONTROL NO.: 6000-180022

SUBJECT: Small Business Runway Extension
Act of 2018

EFFECTIVE: 12-21-18

On December 17, 2018, President Trump signed Public Law No. 115-324, the Small Business Runway Extension Act of 2018 (Runway Extension Act). The Runway Extension Act amends section 3(a)(2)(C)(ii)(II) of the Small Business Act as reflected in the appendix (next page) to this notice. In short, the Runway Extension Act modifies the method for prescribing size standards for small businesses. Under prior law, firms in industries with receipts-based size standards calculated size based on annual average gross receipts over three years. The Runway Extension Act provides that, unless specifically authorized by statute, receipts-based size standards be based on annual average gross receipts over five years.

SBA is receiving inquiries about whether the Runway Extension Act is effective immediately—that is, whether businesses can report their size today based on annual average receipts over five years instead of annual average receipts over three years. The Small Business Act still requires that new size standards be approved by the Administrator through a rulemaking process. The Runway Extension Act does not include an effective date, and the amended section 3(a)(2)(C)(ii)(II) does not make a five-year average effective immediately.

The change made by the Runway Extension Act is not presently effective and is therefore not applicable to present contracts, offers, or bids until implemented through the standard rulemaking process. The Office of Government Contracting and Business Development (GCBD) is drafting revisions to SBA's regulations and SBA's forms to implement the Runway Extension Act. Until SBA changes its regulations, businesses still must report their receipts based on a three-year average.

For more information about the Runway Extension Act, you may contact Khem Sharma, Chief, Office of Size Standards, at (202) 205-7189, or Sam Le of the Office of General Counsel at (202) 619-1789.
